

Dear Sir,

I find the new Broadcast Flag Mandate to be of great violation to my rights. The only thing this will accomplish is to create yet another monopoly. Is it not bad enough that the cable companies and the phone companies have a monopoly in their respective areas? I, for one, do not agree with this and hope that you will reconsider. I have a computer and I have always owned a computer. I am tired of people stepping on my right for their own personal gain. This would create such a large monopoly that only big business would gain anything from it. Do we not have enough monopolies already?
